

April 2024

Warami everyone! (Welcome in Darug language)

Welcome to our April Newsletter for Morning Buds! As we transition into the new season, we are delighted to share our newest updates and highlights, capturing the delightful experiences and continuous growth of our children. Join us as we explore glimpses of the magical moments that have unfolded at our center this month full of learning and development!

Kind regards,

Ping and the team.

Dentist visit:

This month's highlight is definitely our dental incursion! It was such a great opportunity to enhance our children's understanding of oral health and wellbeing. Our children showed great enthusiasm, respect and concentration as they confidently shared how they take care of their teeth and body. It was certainly a fun experience with various activities prepared by Dr. Steven and his team. They enjoyed learning about keeping their smiles healthy and built a more positive relationship with our dentist who is our teeth's best friend!

Celebrating Anzac Day:

To celebrate ANZAC Day, we gathered to bake ANZAC biscuits together with our special guest, Lucas who shared his insights about the historical event behind the celebration of ANZAC Day- the unfortunate war and value of peace. Through our cultural tradition of baking together, children not only learned about the historical significance but also engaged in hands-on learning, exploring measurements and using their senses to discover different ingredients, making the experience both educational and sensory-rich. By actively participating in events like ANZAC Day, they are not only honoring the past but also shaping themselves into compassionate and conscientious individuals who will play a vital role in building a more peaceful and harmonious world.

Other important information:

Ping's absence

During Ping's absence, Ella will be in the office to answer with all of your enquiries. Please do not hesitate to reach out to her

Preparing for rainy weather

As we approach the winter season with more rainy days ahead, a friendly reminder to pack our children's gumboots and raincoats, allowing them to embrace the joy of playing outside even in wet weather. Please also pack spare clothes in their bags to ensure they stay warm and dry throughout the day, ready for any unexpected changes in the weather.

Didgurigur (thank you) for reading!