

February 2024

Warami everyone! (Welcome in Darug language)

February was both exciting and significant as we waved farewell to summer and embraced the inviting essence of autumn at Morning Buds. What an exciting and memorable journey it has been! Our newly starting friends have rapidly settled in so well, displaying great sense of belonging, thanks to all of our caring and loving children who helped during the way. Alos, a heartfelt shout-out to our wonderful families – your incredible involvement, love, and nurturing spirit are the heart and soul of our space. Our big event of the month- Celebrating Lunar New Year with our grandparents and families has been a complete success and what a wonderful moment of collaboration filled with love and happiness. Thank you to all of our families and children who have participated and many more exciting events are to come, so please stay tuned!

Best regards,

Ping and the team.

Celebrating Chinese Lunar New Year:

In celebration of the Chinese Lunar New Year, we made delicious dumplings with our grandparents (and other family members). It wasn't just about cooking; this was certainly a valuable opportunity to learn about Chinese culture and its traditional food. The experience was special, with grandparents sharing stories and traditions with the children. It made our place smell amazing, and we all enjoyed the process while creating lasting memories and stronger connections between generations.

Children's voices:

Our exploration of learning extended as we delved into the timeless tale of celebrating Lunar New Year, delving into the ancient narrative of Dragon Nian accompanied by music and sound. Through this journey, we not only uncovered the vibrant history, and the beauty of music, but also embraced the significance of cultural diversity. It was a beautiful opportunity for the children to enrich their understanding of both their own cultural backgrounds and those of their friends.

	Children's Voice: Audrey: "You know, I saw fireworks in the sky" Lauryn: "He (Dragon Nian) ran away because he was scared for the fireworks" Andrew: (singing along) "Red scrolls on the door at night"

This cultural exploration is vital as it fosters a sense of inclusivity, broadens perspectives, and encourages mutual respect among our young learners, fostering a harmonious and culturally aware environment.

Other information:

Autumn is here!

As the temperature fluctuates with cooler days and hot days, kindly ensure your child is prepared for both by packing a mix of long-sleeved and short-sleeved clothing. This will help them stay comfortable and appropriately dressed for varying weather conditions.

Children's Belonging:

Please make sure to label all your child's belongings, and in each room, there will be a designated basket clearly marked for jumpers. Please remember to collect your child's jumper at the end of the day from the basket. This helps us keep track of belongings and ensures that everything finds its way back to the right hands.
